

The Commercial Records Management Division is now part of Access

On February 28, 2024, the Commercial Records Management Division of AssureVault became part of Access Information Management. We are excited about the opportunity to bring our clients the benefits of being with Access, the largest privately held Records and Information Management company in the world.

We welcome you to the Access family and we promise to work diligently to exceed the expectations of you, our business partners, and the local communities we serve.

To learn more about how Access is helping companies securely manage their information, mitigate their risks, and ensure compliance, please visit www.accesscorp.com/welcome.